The Marco Institute is pleased to announce the three undergraduate winners of the Keith Taylor Undergraduate Essay Prize. Congratulations to the winners!

First Prize, $500

Sarah McKee, major in English.
“Subversive Submission: Emotional Bondage and Literary Freedom in the Songs and Sonnets of Lady Mary Wroth.”
Written for English 410.
Instructor: Dr. Anthony Welch.

Second Prize, $300

Ryan Bliss, major in Women’s Studies.
“To Speak or Not to Speak: feminine Virtue in The Tragedy of Mariam.”
Written for Women’s Studies 422.
Instructor: Dr. Laura Howes.

Third Prize, $200

Maggie Hume, major in English.
“Unsexed Blood and Damned Spots: Representations of the Human Body in Macbeth.”
Written for English 405.
Instructor: Dr. Anthony Welch.