

The Marco Institute for Medieval and Renaissance Studies at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, promotes interdisciplinary research, curricular development, and programming in the histories and cultures of Western Europe, the Mediterranean, and Western Asia from late antiquity through the Renaissance. With an active, accomplished faculty spread across eight different academic departments, Marco offers a range of disciplinary specializations in, and methodological approaches to the humanities, social sciences, languages, and arts.

The Marco Institute grew out of the university's successful Medieval Studies Interdisciplinary Program and built on its longstanding record of attracting accomplished scholars in these fields. The institute was catalyzed by a 2003 National Endowment for the Humanities Challenge Grant that helped secure, with substantial fundraising efforts, a $3-million endowment. Housed in Greve Hall, the institute provides space for classes and meetings, as well as an expanding reference library. Marco hosts internationally recognized scholars for its yearly symposium and for annual lectures, sponsors faculty and graduate research seminars, and provides a range of fellowships for visiting scholars and graduate students. Marco is also the home of the Medieval and Renaissance Studies Interdisciplinary Program and offers an undergraduate major and minor, as well as a graduate certificate in Medieval Studies. With its rich programming and interdisciplinary curriculum, the institute maintains a vibrant scholarly profile and commitment to academic distinction.
